DESCRIPTION

B10 floor lamp designed by René-Jean Caillette and manufactured by Disderot circa 1970.

Made of cream-white lacquered metal, it features a perforated cylindrical body resting on a tulip-shaped base. Seven bulbs arranged vertically inside the structure remain visible through the openings, diffusing light along its entire height. The B10 was produced in different sizes; this example is the low 105 cm version with seven lights.

Manufacturer: Disderot, France, circa 1970.
